NUMBER 234

Remembering the tragic story of the boy and the buzz saw, a majority of the democrats in congress will not fool with the tariff.

Mr. Cleveland says he was not yet chosen his cabinet, and when he gets at that work he will do it himself without dictation from Hendricks or Watterson.

If some one could convince William M. Evarts that he ought to go to the sea, etc., New York would be highly honored and the senate would receive a grand prize.

When the grand march for Washington is begun by the democrats, the chorus will be,

"This is the way I long have sought,

And ne'erard because I found it not."

Mike De Young will soon be able to be on the streets. About that time Mike De Young, if he has any regard for the honor of journalism, ought to be able to do some shooting.

Will some kind friend take Carl Schurz in charge and bathe his head in cold water. He seems to be painfully afflicted with the idea that Mr. Blaine will be re-nominated in 1888.

The way republican clubs are being organized all over the country, one is to infer that they have been instigated for the war. It is an excellent spirit to manifest before the smoke of the late disastrous battle has even cleared away.

The recent democratic victory will do one thing for Washington society which has not been seen since war began. It will give the wives of democratic statesmen the advantage in social power. It makes democratic women come to the front as well as democratic statesmen.

Professor Bell paid out of his lawyers $50,000 for his services in the telephone case. Bell gets several million dollars by the recent decision, and just why the Boston lawyer didn't manage to get more than $50,000 will surprise the bar everywhere. He must have been absent-minded.

The editor of the Herald, published in Cleveland, Tennessee, sent a postal card to every town between Bristol and Chattanooga asking the number of democrats applying for office. He found out that exactly 562 "very hungry and thirsty" democrats want the eighteen post offices and fifteen postal clerkships ever held in that district.

François Moulton, the "natural" friend of Henry Ward Beecher, is dead. It will be remembered that Moulton was the man who took such a prominent part in the persecution and prosecution of Mr. Beecher in the Tilden-Beecher case in 1876, when the trial lasted six months. Moulton held the Beecher letters, and General Woodford and during the last campaign, that had these letters been published as the Mulligan letters were, they would have driven Henry Ward Beecher from any pulpit in Christendom and made his moral restoration impossible this side of the grave. He died without revealing all he knew about the Tilton-Beecher scandal. He was dragged into the affair by Theodore Tilton, but always regretted the course he took.

If a man fully makes up his mind to commit suicide by blowing his brains out, it is an honor to him to be judicious, gentlemanly and decent about it, having some feelings for the rights and feelings of those in close proximity to the spot selected for the suicide. A man down in New York became sixty years old, very bald, eye poor, teeth giving out, rheumatism setting in, and he concluded he would dispatch himself to the other world where old age, weak eyes, bad teeth and an aching body are unknown. He was very deliberate and circumspect in the matter. He didn't want to annoy any one by the little incident he had concluded to bring about. So he wrote a neat apology to his landlord for committing the act on his premises, and said in order not to soil the furniture or carpet with his blood and brains he would go into the back yard where no harm could be done. This he did, much to the convenience of the landlord and his numerous guests. Suicide is becoming very frequent of late, and the plan adopted by Mr. Barrow is worthy of consideration by those who want to get ahead of nature in relieving themselves of the bodily afflictions and sorrows and disappointments of life.

The first chapter of E. P. Roe's latest serial story, "An Original Belle," written for The Current, appears in its issue of December 6. It is original in conception, noble in motive, broad in treatment, and intensely interesting as a whole. It embodies the results of long study, industries research, and comprehensive consideration of the influences of war and its upon society. It is inspired by the lofty impulse of this author to make women and men better. It shows how much a beautiful and gifted woman may do towards elevating mankind in men. It is a story for fathers and mothers, for husbands and wives, for bells and beams. It is serious but never dull; it is uplifting, but never proselytistic. It is genuinely American in its scope, without any of the former process sometimes employed to give a novel an "American" character. It is a story to be read and re-read—a story for the profound student of human nature as well as for those who read for mere diversion. [Subscribers desiring to begin their year's subscription with the initial chapter of "An Original Belle," should order from "No. 51, Dec. 6, 1884."]

Commissioner D. C. Bacon, of Georgia, makes a public statement in regard to the hotels and boarding houses in New Orleans during the exposition season, and this is what he says:

"For Sale—Fourteen acres of choice tobacco land in 3d ward if applied for at once. For information address W. L. Deering & Co."

and a list of every boarding and lodging house and hotel has been secured. A contract has been made with each of them that they will charge a certain price as a maximum during the entire period of the exposition. A stranger goes there, examines one of them, finds exactly what sort of a house it is, how many rooms in it, how many beds in a room, which way the rooms front, how many meals a day, and at what price. He selects his boarding house, is given a ticket, goes to it, and is protected thoroughly against extortions charges by the contract made between the owner of the house and the exposition. The prices are very low. Furnished rooms will cost from 75 cents a day to $1.50 a day. Boarding and lodging will be from $1.50 to $3 per day. The hotels will charge their regular rates, the St. Charles $4, and the others from $2 to $3. The new Hotel Royal, condoned on the European plan, will accommodate its guests with rooms from $1 per day up to $8 and $10.

This is supplemented by the pleasing statement that there will be room for all no extortions, and that the humbllest visitor will receive the same attention as the most exalted.

A WRONG JUDGMENT.

Mr. Blaine's speech is dignified and Mr. T. C. Smith is endeavoring—and because of his defects—to arouse bitterness and ill-feeling between north and south—New Orleans Times.

This is a fit culmination of the campaign and buying inaugurated by Mr. Blaine, and a brilliant, though disgusting picture of a sensationalist and adventurer unscrupulous in the political annals of any land or people.—Townsville Courier-Journal.

So the southern papers are still harping on Mr. Blaine's August speech. They seem to take infinite delight in misconstruing the spirit of the speech in which Mr. Blaine gave some of the reasons why the republican party went down to defeat at the November election.

There are two things connected with southern comments on that speech which is very clear to every unprejudiced mind, first, that the democratic press misrepresents the purport of Mr. Blaine's argument; or second, that it willfully attempts to prejudice the people of the south against Mr. Blaine by giving his speech a malicious construction. All that he did in the August speech was simply to state facts—cold and very bold facts—in connection with the suppression of the republican vote in the south. He gave these facts in a manner quite characteristic of James G. Blaine. His vivid portrayal of the gross injustice done to those states where a free ballot and a fair count is absolutely prohibited, was a keen lance thrown at the southern democratic leaders. This was not said in the heat of passion, neither was it uttered with hatred nor malice. He attempted to appeal to the reason and intelligence of his neighbors and the whole country, and not to rouse the issue of the "bloody shirt."

The southern press should bear in mind a few facts regarding the position of the republican party. That position is righteous and solid as that on which the gospel of peace is founded. The republican party plants itself and appeals for support to the thoughtful voters of the nation. It desires to arouse no man's passion or create sectional prejudice. It is eager to concede to the southern states every atom of power in controlling and directing the policy of the government to which they are justly entitled. But the party will not consent, even by silence, to a gigantic wrong.

It will not stand by supinely and see the power belonging to one section of the Union concentrated, through fraud and murder, into the hand of a few men who will use it for their own selfish advancement and to the detriment of the nation.

Not only the south but the whole nation is in a quandary as to what the position is wrong? Not one.

CRIMINAL MYSTERIES.

ARSENIC AND STRYCHNINE USED ON A VIRGINIA FAMILY.

Thirteen Persons Poisoned By Unknown
Parties. The Result of Two Attempts
—Slaughter of Three People
in Georgia.

GREENBURN White Sulphur Springs,
W. Va., Dec. 4.—The community in the vicinity of Fort Spring is terribly excited at a desperate and devilish attempt to poison
the family of Matthew Mann, a respectable merchant living at Fort Spring. The horrible affair is utterly inexplicable, and the community, while grieved at the persistent efforts and narrow escape of the family, is dismayed at the dastardly ingratitude of those who committed the crime.

About a week ago the family of eight persons, with several working on the place, had been deadly sick by something they had eaten.
Prompt remedies saved their lives, but the poisoned article could not be located.

On Monday a messenger came breathless to Fort Springs with the information that the entire Mann family, and a family named Carr, living on their place, had been poisoned by drugged milk. A physician was hurriedly to the Mann place and found thirteen persons very weak, and undergoing all the signs of poison. He at once set to work to save them, but at last accounts they were all in a critical condition. An examination of the milk led to an analysis, and it was discovered to contain both arsenic and strychnine.

The resolution was adopted ordering an investigation into the loose of lands belonging to Indian reservations. Bills were passed to authorize the bridging of the St. Croix River and its tributaries. The best part of Wednesday was spent in discussing Reagan's interstate commerce bill.

The Whisky Men.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4.—The whisky interests going to appeal to this congress for measures of relief. They will first try to get a bill to reduce the rates of excise tax, and then that great measure will be followed by a bill to prohibit the sale of whisky in the territory of Montana. A bill was introduced for the relief of W. W. Averill, with the rank of colonel.

The house of representatives passed bills
making temporary provision for the navy and authorizing the bridging of the St. Croix River and its tributaries. The best part of Wednesday was spent in discussing Reagan's interstate commerce bill.

Going to See a Lawyer.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4.—A party of fifty senators, representatives, naval officers and others will go to Chester, Pa., where they will witness the launch of the new cutter after the removal of the crimes
of citizens on board.

Going to See a Lawyer.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4.—The propects are not bright for Mr. Reagan's interstate commerce bill, which is under discussion in the house.

PRIVILEGES OF THE PRESS.

Can Reporters Refuse to Answer Grand Jury Questions?

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—A question now before the superior court of mass interest to all newspapers here has grown out of a recent publication of The Globe, upon the new developments in the Lane murderer case. The subject matter of the story was grand jury secret, and the court officials are deeply concerned in ascertaining just how it leaked out.

TUESDAY, Mr. James Frost and Daniel J. Suddards, of The Globe, were before the grand jury, and it was agreed to divulge no source of their information.

Wednesday the two journalists were brought up to answer a charge of contempt of court. Arguments were heard and the matter was taken under consideration by the judge, who will decide whether to send the gentlemen to jail or to dismiss them.

Identifying the Ballots.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The United States grand jury Wednesday continued its investigation of the fraud in the Eighteenth ward. The ballots were again produced before the jury, and Wright, the printer, and Fullis, the engraver, with other witnesses identified 200 of them as having been printed from the head and type prepared by them on Nov.
21. This was alleged to have leaked out of the grand jury room, and if true, settles beyond a doubt the question whether Fraud was committed.

Fullis, who was issued a subpoena, gave him
the order for the tickets, and received them from him at his (MacKin's) room in the Palmer house. At latest account the supposition had not been solved. The Illinois club has passed resolutions denouncing the fraud and appointed a committee of seven to act with the citizen's committee in securing the punishment of the perpetrators.

One of the Social Problems.

(Henderson Town, Citizen.)

Henderson is getting too utterly stylish for its size. A great many people here who haven't got $100 worth of clothes to go dress up in have got the bulge on the corner lots.

We noticed a lot of little wigs of girls going to school the other day. The fathers of some of these girls were not earning over $600 a year, and besides having to supply a family of six, these girls must be dressed as Princesses. There isn't any sense in it.
There was a day when a cutie dress and a sunbonnet were good enough for a school dress, and if fine surgery was put on the wearer was sent home with instructions to change. It is very painful for a little girl to go out in company dressed poorly when the majority are clad in luxury.

The Latest Feminine Freak.

(Boston Gazette.)

A frothy diversion on the part of Boston daughters of wealth and leisure is the dressing of dolls. They have waxen effigies made to order, representing in miniature their own shapes as laid out for the putting on of their outer garments. Even to the features and complements of a rather counterpart is provided. By means of some artistic effects of textures, colors and styles can be tested. To such an extent was this idea carried that a complete scene representation of a bridal party at the altar was constructed weeks before a wedding.

Hatchet Parties.

(Detroit Free Press.)

These are special features among the Capes and Montagues of society this winter.

I think back to my old days of youth when we used to go to the neighborhood or "set," some one who was a neutral ground gives a hatchet party to which all are invited. It is not etiquette to decline such an invitation. If a garment is given, small hatchets highly decorated, are exchanged. The floral garniture takes the form of a hatchet. At the supper the refreshments take a shape which indicates that the hatchet is used.

New Financial Scheme Introduced in the Senate-House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4.—The so-called Wednesdays' Club bills for Senate and House were introduced in both houses yesterday. The bills propose to suspend the coining of the silver dollar.
It provides that on and after the passage of the act the coinage of silver dollars shall be suspended; that the secretary of the treasury be directed not to release any United States notes of a denomination less than $5, and to destroy all United States notes of a less denomination than $5, and cease engraving or printing all such notes.
It authorizes the secretary to issue silver certificates in substitution for such notes, having the same value as the notes so destroyed, and to issue
silver certificates having the same value
as the notes so destroyed.

It also provides that the secretary of the treasury shall issue certificates for silver bullion in such sub-treasuries as the secretary may designate.

Clothing for winter, for men and boys can be bought for very little money at the New York Fire store, South Main street, opposite Methodist church.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the ther-

—Foggy morning.
—Annual ball of the Janesville Guards this evening.

—The city of Oshkosh has levied a tax this year amounting to $133,747.34.

—People's Lodge No. 460, I. O. O. F., meet this evening in their lodge room, Court Street M. E. church block.

—Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, A. O. U. W., hold a regular meeting this evening Lodge room in Lippincott's block.

—Regular semi-monthly meeting of Rock River Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F., at Odd Fellows hall, this evening.

—Messrs King & Gately, the ice dealers, have put their ice houses in readiness to receive the ice crop of 1884-5.

—Excellent weather for handling tobacco, and a considerable amount of the weed is being brought to the city warehouses.

—The annual meeting of the Rock county agricultural society will be held at the court house to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—The brick-layers are working hard to see how many brick they can put into the walls of the Jeffry's building before the next freeze up.

—Mr. S. H. Allen of Beloit, yesterday assumed charge of the county poor house and insane asylum as superintendent, vice Conant resigned.

—Mrs. R. W. Townsend, of Troy, New York, died at her home last night. Mrs. Townsend was a sister of Mrs. Wm. Rutherford who received the sad intelligence by telegram to-day.

—A cold drizzling rain commenced here about one o'clock this afternoon. While the temperature is rather cool, the tobacco man appears to be well pleased, as it gives them an opportunity to handle the $4 crop and get it ready for market.

—Campbell & Webb thus day sold to Wm. B. Noyes the brick residence situated on lot No. 127, block 131, corner of Center and Jackson streets, fourth ward, property of Zemias Nickerson. Price paid $1,500.

—The great events of next week will be the mineral show and the thirty-first annual dance of Water Witch Engine company No. 2, both of which occur on Thursday evening,—the former at the opera house and the latter at Apollo hall.

—The Guards' army has been very handsomely ornamented for their annual party this evening, and will present a very tasty appearance. The indications are that a large number will be in attendance, many of whom will be guests from Rockford, Beloit, Monroe and other cities.

—Night Officer McGinley, of the east side force, captured two tramps this evening, who were brought before the municipal court this afternoon, and on the promise to keep Janesville mud off their shoes and never again fall into McGinley's hands, they were allowed to board the first outgoing train.

—The Beloit Common council, on December 1st, adopted a resolution "That the committee on fire department are hereby authorized with the assistance of three experts to ascertain the cost of a steam fire engine, for the better protection of the city property, and report the same to this council at as early a time as possible."

—The covenant and prayer meeting of the Baptist church society, which was held in the lecture room of the new church building last evening, was attended by a large number of members who took deep interest in attending the first religious gathering in their new house of worship. On Sunday next the regular service will be held in the Sunday school room.

—The passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern road due here from Chicago at 1:30 p.m., was several hours behind time to-day, owing to collision of two freight trains at Kishwaukee, the first station south of Harvard. The passenger train came through from Chicago on the Elgin and Belvidere line, and arrived a few minutes before three o'clock. No particulars concerning the collision have been received.

—If we may judge by the preparations that are being made, the ladies of the Baptist church mean to make their "salo" at Cannon's hall next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, as attractive as was their Japanese festival last winter. In addition to the beautiful home and foreign goods that will be shown, an oyster supper will be served, of which G. Shurtliff will have the management.

Elegant holiday goods at Eldredge's.

—The proceedings of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association, which were held at Madison last August, have been published in pamphlet form by the Gazette Printing company. In addition to the regular proceedings of the association is the roll of members and also the report of the Wisconsin State board of pharmacy. It was prepared under the direction of Mr. E. J. Heimstreet, secretary of the association. In typographical appearance, the pamphlet is a credit to the office from which it is issued, and especially to the persons directly responsible for the mechanical success of such a piece of work. Times almost without number, they have done themselves credit in turning out splendid specimens of workmanship from the Gazette job department, and the proceedings of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association fully sustain their well-earned reputation for doing excellent work. By the way, these proceedings should be in the hands of every druggist in the state, particularly those who are members of the association. It contains much matter that will prove valuable to druggists generally.
